1ST – ASIF ALAM (M, 30)

R/o- Near OP Dhakal Clinic, Daragaon Tadong, Gangtok, East Sikkim

Caption: Very first record from Sikkim state of (Stork-billed Kingfisher). I searched this species since last 4 years but after a long search finally I got it from Ranikhola (Martam) on 4TH MARCH 2021 and same informed to Mr. Kusal Gurung sir(RO EAST). He confirmed me this is the very first record from Sikkim state. He said book says it has been recorded from thr sikkim Tarai, but doesn't mention the year, location and the observer. i am to assume that those records were of the Greater sikkim, which extended down to the plains of the Mahananda and Doors area. after very next days we both search the location but not get proper full frame shot only able to captured record shot and some video clips but i'm not stop here and i continue my searching activity and finally got a full frame shot on 11th March 2021 from river side of Ranikhola i am so happy to shared with you hope you like it.

2ND GAYCHUNG LEPCHA (M, 25)

R/o- Singlitam, West Sikkim

Caption: Some 20 years back hundreds of dragonflies used to visit our fields in summer. me as a innocent and naughty child used to insert small sticks on the abdomen of this insect (dragonflies) and enjoy the flight they make with this long stick.but now within 15-20 years we hardly have a guest dragonflies in our field. But whenever I see this flies my childhood memories get freshen up. Let us all join our hands to conserve this beautiful fly, so that our children will have same childhood memories as ours.

3RD SUSMA SEWA (F, 21)

2ND S. K. LIMBOO (M, 24)

R/o- Lower Sripatam, Yangang, South Sikkim

Description: Himalayan ecosystem serves million of population and has its own importance for people living in this region. But sadly it's beauty and purity is degrading due to several reasons out of which improper disposal of plastics remain at the top. Plastics are non-biodegradable and can cause soil erosion, landslide, infertility of soil, water pollution etc. Through this short video, we tried to draw the attention of people on the hazardous effect of disposing plastic openly. Let's join our hand to make Himalaya free of plastic waste.
